

Logan's Diary Pages

Pokemon Go

Mum was not at home today. That means no Story Evening for me. I need to go out and catch some Pokemon for my dad. My dad is not great with technology but he entered a Pokemon competition at work. Now I have to go out hunting for Pokemon! I am not exactly happy doing this - Pokemon Go is not exactly my cup of tea. But dad is paying good money.

I was supposed to take his mobile phone to school but I gave it to Treyvon to catch some more Pokemon during the day as he didn't have a lot to do during the day.

Now I need to go get dad's phone from Treyvon. Fingers crossed everything is OK with the phone. Dad would kill me (well , not really kill me) but he will be upset if anything happened to his phone.

I am off now :-)